

WINDSHIELD WASHER SYSTEM FOR AUTOMOTIVE VEHICLE

Abstract of Disclosure

A windshield washer system for an automotive vehicle includes a reservoir for holding windshield washer fluid, and an applicator system for furnishing washer fluid from the reservoir to an exterior surface of the vehicle. A heat transfer system recovers heat from a braking system of the vehicle and conveys the recovered heat to the washer fluid contained within the reservoir.

Figures